HAYNES
"America's Greatest Light Six"

Service That Counts

Everybody talks service. What will be done for you after you purchase your car? This is what we have done to insure you service and the proper kind of service.

R. K. CHASE, who has been with the HAYNES factory for 14 years and is considered their best road man, has been retained by us to take charge of our service department August 10.

E. G. Sieberling, general manager of the Haynes factory, said, "Chase is the best man the factory has ever had."

ECONOMY

The following letter speaks for itself:

Treasury Department, July 24, 1916.

Dear Mr. Gish: Referring to our conversation of last Saturday, beg to say that my records show that my Haynes light six went 20 6-10 miles per gallon of gasoline during the first five months of use on city streets.

On the trip just completed from here to Kentucky and return over all kinds of roads and with a great deal of second speed work the average was 16 17-43 miles per gallon going and 16 1-3 miles per gallon returning.

Cordially yours,

S. F. POTTINGER.

Mr. Pottinger also stated that on the round trip he only used one-half gallon of oil.

DURABILITY

D. M. LEA, of Washington, D. C., states that he has had his Haynes car for 6 years—has run it over 115,000 miles and that it is running as good today as on the day he bought it.

RELIABILITY

The Haynes factory built the first car in America and has been building cars ever since.

CLASS OF PURCHASERS

are people who discriminate against a car on which all the money has been put in beautiful design with the mechanical features neglected.

Our prices enable us to construct a high-class car using the best of material throughout—thus getting years of service. To give great economy of up-keep as well as great power is the secret of the success of the Haynes Light Six.

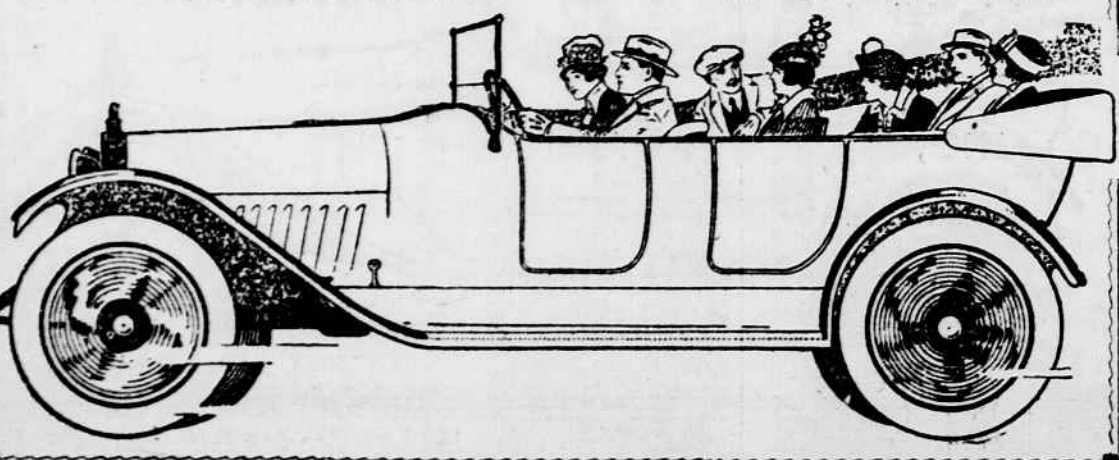

RECORD

The recent record-breaking run of the Haynes Light Six from New York to Washington in 7 hours and 12 minutes actual running time with a stock touring car demonstrated the power and speed of the Haynes.

DELIVERIES

We have cars on the floor at all times. Should you decide to buy a Haynes we can deliver it to you in an hour's time.
